Development of Ready-to-Eat Vending Meals

- There is a shift in consumer behaviour towards food items that can easily be consumed and prepared without much effort.
- TP has worked with a local startup company to develop the recipes for 5 Ready-to-Eat vending meals.
- These recipes were also developed to qualify for the Healthier Choice symbol.
- The products and technology have been licensed by the company, with the company planning to distribute the products to local food manufacturers.
